COW DISTURBS BOAT'S ROUSTERS

Stampedes Them and Then
Stampedes Herself

Men Sleeping on Deck Rush to the Guards but Are Prevented from Going Overboard.

SHE CONTROLLED THE DECK.

Pandemonium reigned for a while on the steamer Dick Fowler lying at the wharfbank last night at 11 o'clock and an occurrence purely ridiculous nearly turned into tragedy. Separated from her family and finding the bars that had held her in bondage, yielding to her pressure for liberty, a cow broke out of a pen on the boat and started on a tour of investigation.

Roustes sleep heavily after a hard day's work. They sleep around on the bailer deck on pallets, sometimes so thick that a person can't walk across the deck without kicking one. Hence the pandemonium that resulted from this cow's walking around in her curiosity. At every step she took she encountered rough-walking followed by the most outlandish yells. Of a naturally amiable disposition, the cow was put into a panicky state of mind by the commotion her wanderings occasioned. She, too, began to grow excited. More rapid movements under her feet promptly accompanied by still greater vocal scales run off at high pressure from fright and given volume by lusty lungs, put reason to flight.

Roustes who had not been awakened by the cow's steps, were brought to a state of bewildered consciousness, by the shouts of their companions. In the dark no idea of what was going on could be gotten. Besides, to be awakened like that could not be expected to make for calm investigation.

The roustes rushed for the guards. They didn't know whether the world had come to an end or fire had broken out. In either case probably they thought the water would be a safe place for them.

Officers on the wharfbank who had a better perspective of the events that had been transpiring, caught the frightened and half-waked roustes before they took the plunge into the river. They were pulled down off the guards and the sight of the officers reassured them. The cow meanwhile, was going it in good fashion. Nothing would calm her. She had caught up the spirit of the occasion when it was at its height and was charging up and down the deck, glaring fiercely at every object.

"Aw, hell!" exclaimed the roustes in disgust.

Then they turned their attention to subduing this cause of their rudely disturbed slumbers. Not under ordinary circumstances are roustes gentle in their handling of cattle and now, stimulated by feelings of disgust and shame over their "women's panic," they closed in on the cow. She must have felt the overpowering personalities approaching, for she got into a corner, where she obstinately remained until bodily dragged out and put back in her pen. The roustes were sullen. They moved about in mental restlessness over their ridiculous fright. Finally each went to his pallet and muttered curses could be heard for several minutes until their fatigue overcame their consciousness.

Several families moved from Cairo yesterday on the Dick Fowler with their household goods to O'Grady's Landing. Everything was unloaded, but for some reason the single cow was overlooked and she was brought on to Paducah. This morning she was eating breakfast apparently forgetful of last night's stormy scenes.

BASKET FACTORY STARTS UP AGAIN

After a shut-down of practically several months, the Mergenthaler-Horlton Basket company will resume operations Monday under Receiver W. P. Hummel. In a few days, it is expected, the concern will be running with its complete force. Pending a suit over the property Mr. Hummel was appointed to take charge, but lack of available funds caused delay in starting up. The plant had run only a few days after a three-months' shut-down when the suit was instituted.

ODD FELLOWS MEMORIAL

The Paducah lodges of Odd Fellows will tomorrow afternoon assemble at the Broadway M. E. church at 2 o'clock to hold memorial services. The memorial sermon will be delivered by the Rev. W. F. Bolling, and the fraternal address by Rev. J. H. Henry. There will be a special musical program by the church choir.

Havana, June 8.—A strike at Santiago, caused by the demand of laborers on the docks and tramways for an eight hour day, was peacefully settled according to a report to Governor Magoon.

SUICIDE RECORD.

Chicago, June 8.—Chicago's suicide record was broken in May when 55 persons ended their lives. The coroner's office and Forecaster Cox say the weather is responsible for the increase.

PURCHASED PULLMAN.

Fort Fort, Tex., June 8.—The Central railway has purchased its own Pullman cars and reduced the rates of upper berths to one dollar and lower to a dollar and a half. ORCHARD ON GRILL.

Boise, June 8.—The cross-examination of Harry Orchard, the star witness in the Haywood trial, was continued this afternoon. He testified that Haywood told him to kill Governor Peabody, of Colorado, with a shotgun, but he did not get a chance to do the job. He could not explain why, as Peabody went about a great deal at night, Orchard was considerably mixed by the cross-examination, but in the main stuck to his direct testimony.

MRS. B. W. MOCKBEE

Dies of Pneumonia at Her Home on Goebel Avenue.

Mrs. Mary Emaline Mockbee, 47 years old, wife of Mr. B. W. Mockbee, of 714 Goebel avenue, died at 7 o'clock last night of pneumonia, after an illness of several weeks. She was thought to be better until a week ago when she suffered a relapse. Mrs. Mockbee was born in Mississippi and removed to Kentucky in 1874. She had been a resident of this city 15 years. She leaves a brother, Mr. William C. Sutherland, a tie man of Mississippi, formerly of the Illinois Central here, her husband, and two sons, Masters Baxter, Jr., aged 6 years, and Benny, aged 3 years. The funeral will be held tomorrow at the residence. The burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery.

Southern Peanut Company Will Have Large Capital

Hundred Thousand Dollar Concern Takes Over Local Plant and Will Increase Business With Greater Capacity

HANDLE ALL KINDS OF NUTS.

Articles of incorporation were filed today at the court house by the Southern Peanut company, with $100,000 capital stock, to succeed the present concern by the same name at First and Washington streets. The old company had $40,000 capital stock owned, principally, by W. F. Bradshaw, Jr., Cook Husbands, George C. Thompson and J. W. Scott. Mr. Scott is the only member retaining interest in the concern. He will be vice-president. Charles Hall, of St. Louis, will be secretary-treasurer, and J. D. Jones, of Bakersville, Tenn., will be president.

The incorporators are Charles Hall, of St. Louis, 150; J. D. Jones, Bakersville, Tenn., 50 and W. O. Britt, city, 30 shares each. The capital stock is fixed at $100,000, divided into 1,000 shares of $100 each.

The plans of the new company are ambitious, including the erection of a new plant in Texas, the probable increasing of the capacity of the Paducah plant, the handling of all kinds of southern nuts and a general increase in facilities.

The company now does a half million dollar business in a year and has had a remarkably prosperous career.

It is the biggest concern of the kind in the United States.

CICERO ANDERSON IS CAUGHT BY DETECTIVE

Cicero Anderson, charged with being an accomplice in the cutting of John Ayres, a farmer of the Maxon Mills section, last Sunday morning on Kentucky avenue near First street, was arrested in Fulton last night and brought to Paducah this morning at 1:35 o'clock by Detective T. J. Moore.

Anderson went north from Paducah after fleeing from the city to escape arrest. He wrote a letter which fell into the hands of the authorities. It read that he would be in Fulton June 7, and Detective Moore was there to watch out for him.

There are two others in jail awaiting trial on the same charge, and the case will come up as soon as Ayres is able to leave Riverside hospital. His wounds are rapidly healing and he will be able to attend court next week, it is thought.

Anderson is a paroled convict, having been sentenced for two years for killing John Mix.

POSTOFFICE IN GRAFT BEING INVESTIGATED.

Cincinnati, June 8.—An investigation of the relations of railroads and the postoffice department by direct order of President Roosevelt, which has already caused a saving to the government of more than $2,000,000 is declared to be now under way in an article in the Times-Star.

Thirty-two postoffice inspectors are said to be at work in a case of alleged conspiracy of the railroads and postoffice department. What railroads are concerned in the allegations is not stated says the Times-Star. Brief facts are known but evidence is not at hand.

The inquiry has been going on for months. In fact, since last December. One postoffice division has charge of disbursements of $90,000,000 annually, and enough has been learned in investigation to save the United States $2,000,000 a year.

Circuit Court at Benton.

Circuit Judge W. M. Reed will go to Benton Monday morning to convene Marshall circuit court, and the docket being light will doubtless finish in two weeks.

BELL SAYS ORCHARD IS CONSUMMATE LIAR —WIFE WILL TESTIFY.

Denver June 8.—Mrs. Ida Orchard, one of the wives of the chief witness in the Haywood case, left Cripple Creek for Boise. She will swear her husband was employed by a detective agency when she married him in 1902, and has continued in that capacity since.

Gen. Sherman Bell laughs at what Harry Orchard says about attempting to kill him. He says Orchard knew where Bell could be found at all times. "Fact is," said Bell, "Orchard was not looking for me. As regards his testimony, he's the biggest liar who ever saw Pike's peak."

TOBACCO TRADES MAKE INCREASE

Over Two Hundred Thousand Dollars Increase in the Bank Clearings For Week Just Ended

LOCAL TRADE IS IMPROVING.

Bank clearings 1,005,523
Same week last year..... 745,390
Increase 260,127

That part of the increase in bank clearings that appears to be unusual, is due to tobacco movements. Coming in addition to a normal increase in the clearings, the money paid out in tobacco transactions has sent the week up among the few million dollar figures reached in the year. For the first week in June, the clearings this week are reassuring in the face of the decrease in May.

The various tobacco agents in this city are shipping their purchases to their firms or governments abroad and the payment of money is for tobacco long since brought in. Practically no wagon tobacco is being received at the warehouses. The prices this year have been high and the backward state of the crops now is feared will cause a bad market next year. Some manufacturers will face in all probability, the situation of being able to sell the leaf tobacco at better prices than the manufactured product.

A business man who made a trip south this week said he never saw a good stand of corn in 100 miles. And June is the month corn is supposed to be laid by. Tobacco and cotton are likewise.

Fugitive Arrested.

Charged with being an accomplice in a housebreaking charge, Charles Darnell was taken back to Marion, Ill., yesterday afternoon to stand trial. He was arrested by Patrolman Michael Dugan in Mechanicsburg on a description given him by Marshal J. W. Blankton, of Marion, Ill., who came here searching for Darnell. A hardware store at Marion was broken into last week and three young men suddenly left town. Blankton followed, arresting two of them in Brookport. Darnell, the third, had come here and it required but a short time to locate him. Three pistols, two dozen pocket knives and other articles, all identified as stolen from the Marion hardware store, were found in Darnell's possession.

SECOND BAPTIST BEING IMPROVED

Improvements to the interior of the Second Baptist church, 700 South Ninth street, will make it much more attractive. The edifice will be closed tomorrow, on account of its torn up condition, but will be ready for services the following Sunday. Carpenters, painters and paper hangers are engaged in the work. New seats will be installed.

Murder Is Suspected.

Bellaire, Ohio, June 8.—The residence of Herman Michaels was burned today and Michael's body was found in the ruins. He lived alone. Police are investigating a report that he was murdered and the house fired.

Amended Articles.

Amended articles of incorporation of the Paducah Distilleries company were filed, increasing the stock to $25,000. Incorporators are Morris J. and J. Friedman and M. F. Levy.

MAD DOG SCARE IS UNFOUNDED

Doctor Says Cases of Rabies are Rare

Dogs Feel Ill and Cross, but People Nag Them and Dogs Resent It, of Course.

FEELS SORRY FOR THE DOGS.

"Why all this shooting of dogs supposed to be mad?" asked a prominent physician this morning. "I haven't picked up The Sun any day this week that I haven't noticed of a mad dog being shot. You say two were shot this morning, and yet I'll venture to say that there have not been a dozen genuine mad dogs in Paducah in 20 years. A case of hydrophobia is rare but the number of times dogs that have been shot in the last ten days from having this disease, makes a professional man dubious about the correctness of the report.

"You ask what is the matter with the dogs, that they certainly act queerly and frequently bite persons. Nothing in the world in nine cases out of ten, but a spell of irritation on the part of the dog. Do you know of any animal that has to stand as much nagging as a dog? Children abuse them and grown folks think they are never wearied by play. A dog gets tired of playing, the weather is hot, but the nagging goes on just the same. Is it any wonder that he sometimes gets irritated and resorts to his natural means of defense—a bite? In our relations with dogs we rarely take notice when they are sick, unless they are so sick they can't move, and you know how quarrelsome a person is when he is half sick. Why can't we suppose that a dog has some characteristics of other animals, and instead of shooting one every time he isn't normal or bites somebody, use a little common judgment in the case? Do we shoot a horse that gets irritated and bites somebody?"

"In the popular mind, every dog that acts queerly or bites somebody, is mad, and must be shot forthwith. Ask anybody you know how many persons he can remember of having died from a mad-dog bite and you will find how rare is a real case of the rabies. There is that popular conceit about mad-stones and other fakes that are religiously clung to by the great mass of the people. I look forward to the time when we shall be more rational in this matter."

SCHOLARSHIPS TO STATE NORMAL

The term begins Monday and lasts throughout eight weeks. Most of those teachers from the county caring to go, attended during the winter, twelve in number, and no applications from rural teachers were received by Superintendent Billington for the summer term. City teachers are anxious to go, and the following five were appointed, their tuition being free: Misses Helene McBroom, Elsie Hoewischer, Bessie Karnes, Lucy Scott and Jessie Cloys. Miss McBroom is already at Bowling Green, and the others will leave today and tomorrow to be present Monday at the beginning of the term. Superintendent Billington is authorized to appoint ten.

BURGLAR WANTED ONLY HER SHOES

Ignored Presence of Husband's Gold Watch and Picked Up the Footgear Without Disturbing Sleepers

CLIMBED IN THROUGH WINDOW.

Ignoring a fine gold railroad watch, and taking only a pair of ladies shoes, a thief made a successful raid on the residence of Mr. John Schroeder, Twelfth and Trimble streets. He entered the room where Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder were asleep never once awakening them, so silently did he go about his operations. Mrs. Schroeder's shoes were near the dresser on which lay her husband's fine gold watch. The shoes were missed by Mrs. Schroeder when she arose, and because the watch remained in its original place, the theory of burglary was not entertained until an open window, showing the manner in which the thief entered and departed was discovered. Mr. Schroeder is a foreman in the Illinois Central shops.

LIVE IN HOUSE WHILE IT IS BEING SLIGHTED

One week ago R. E. McCarty, the Illinois Central engineer, lived on Jackson street between Eleventh and Twelfth streets. Today he resides at Tennessee and Tenth streets, four blocks away; yet he has not removed his household goods, and resides in the same house he lived in on Jackson street. When Martin Yopp sold to the school board sufficient property at Twelfth and Jackson streets to build a new school house, the McCarty house stood in the way. Carpenters blocked it up, placed it on skids and rollers, and moved it four blocks, not disturbing any article in the house. Mr. and Mrs. McCarty lived in the house all during the transportation, and experienced little inconvenience. Contractor H. Shick moved the house.

Chief Wood Gets Bulldog.

He is a big brute, and is just one year old. He was presented to Chief Wood by the fire chief of Lansing, Mich., whom he met at the national association convention, and who became a great admirer of the Big Chief.

CITY BEAUTIFUL THUS PROMOTED

Mrs. Edward Mallory and Mr. Samuel B. Caldwell, at the request of the Civics department of the Woman's club, have most generously given the pretty triangle lot at the intersection of Trimble and Fourteenth street, that was owned by their father, the late Dr. S. B. Caldwell, for a "beauty spot" for the city. The Civics department will begin at once making it attractive. There are some fine trees on it and it can easily be made into a beautiful little park. It is on the car line to Oak Grove and although far out is passed by many every day. It is adjacent to the Home of the Friendless, Paducah's most commendable charity, and will give pleasure to the little inmates of the institution.

Rossington School House.

Contractors Garlan and Hart secured for $542 a contract to build a new school house in the Rossington district.

BOARD OF HEALTH WILL PROSECUTE

No more leniency will be shown recalcitrant property owners by the board of health. "Heretofore it has been the custom," said a member of the board today, "to dismiss prosecution, when a person charged with maintaining a nuisance abates it; but we shall discontinue that practice. The idea has gone abroad that the board drops the prosecution, because it can't prevail. We give people three days notice before swearing out warrants, and that is time enough. If they show good cause, we shall extend the time. Otherwise, hereafter, they will be cited to ordinance court and prosecuted, regardless of the fact, that after their arrest they obey the order.

Horse Is Shot.

Jap Toner, humane officer, last night superintended the killing of a horse hopelessly ill, and secured a written agreement with the owner that he agreed on shooting the animal. The horse was that of Rural Mail Carrier J. B. Clark, of 917 South Eleventh street.

S.S.S. HEALS S.S.S. OLD SORES

An old sore or ulcer is only a symptom, an outlet for the impurities and poisons which are in the blood, and as long as this vital fluid remains in this impure, contaminated state the place will never heal. The application of salves, washes, powders, etc., may cause the spot to scab over, but a fresh outpouring of diseased matter from the blood starts it again, and thus it goes on, gradually growing worse and slowly affecting the entire health of the sufferer. There are many ways in which the blood becomes contaminated and poisoned. A long spell of sickness breeds disease germs in the system, the failure of the eliminative members to remove the refuse and waste matter of the body, the excessive use of mineral medicines in certain diseases, all infect the blood with morbid matter and germs which sooner or later is manifested by a sore that refuses to heal. Persons with inherited blood taint are very apt to be afflicted with sores and ulcers. The taint may lie dormant during young, vigorous life, but when middle age is reached or passed and the natural energies begin to grow weaker, the tissues in some weak point break down and a chronic sore is formed and kept open by the constant drainage of impure matter from the blood. If the cause is not removed the sore will continue to grow worse by eating deeper into the flesh, festering, discharging, and slowly undermining the constitution. S. S. S. heals old sores by going down to the very bottom of the trouble, driving out the impurities and building up the entire circulation. When S. S. S. has removed the cause the blood becomes rich and healthy, the sore begins to heal, new flesh is formed, and soon the place is cured. Do not depend on external applications, which do not reach the blood, but begin the use of S. S. S. and remove of the cause, and then the sore must heal. and "Roxie W" in an elegant burst of speed, passed "Bell Brooks," winning the heat by a head. Time 1:10.

Third Heat.
Starters were off in a bunch. "Bell
Brooks" broke at the start. "Tobe
Scott" followed the example. "Bell Brooks" and "Tobe Scott" had it neck and neck at the quarter when
"Tobe Scott" broke again. "Bell

"George Starr," owned and driven by Dr. Ed Farley.

rill, driven by Gus Thompson.

First Heat.
Starters got away with "George

Starr," "Harry A.," and "J. T."
"Harry A." broke on the quarter, and "J. T." overtook him, but later lost on remarkable work of "Harry

"Harry A.," and "J. T." "George Starr" keeping a natural stride without a hint at breaking. Time 1:06.

Second Heat.
Starters got away well bunched.
"George Starr" with the pole. No breaks occurred, and the three were tightly bunched in the stretch. In a neck and neck finish "Harry A."
stretched the furthest, and won by a nose. "J. T." second and "George Starr" third. Time 1:05.

Third Heat.
Starters got away together and
came into the stretch well bunched, finishing in an exciting burst of speed in which whips figured promi-nently. "Harry A." first; "George Starr," second; "J. T.," third.
Time 1:06.

Automobile Dash.
The automobile three mile dash came between the class "B" pace and special pace events. Dan Fitzpatrick drove James P. Smith's "Reo," and Lionel Roark drove Sam Foreman's "Ford" runabout. An even
"still" start was made from the wire at the drop of a handkerchief, and the Ford took the lead with ease, being a lighter machine. It showed its remarkable speed by a steady gain and when the sixth lap was finished was over a quarter of a mile ahead of the Reo. The half miles were made as follows: First half, 51;
second, 52; third, 52; fourth, 51;
fifth, 50, and sixth half mile 50 seconds. Total three miles made in 5 minutes and 6 seconds. The average for the fastest mile was 36 miles an hour. This is within ten miles of the fastest record made on a half mile oval course, not banked.

Loleta Lowers Track Record.
"Loleta," owned by V. J. Blow and driven by C. H. Harris, lowered the track record from 2:16 1/4 to 2:14 although Harris did not intend to work her faster than 2:19. The first half was stepped in 1:08 3/4, and the second 1:05 1/4. The 2:16 1/4 record was made by Satin Slippers, of Indianapolis in 1895. The race record was made by Sir Edwin Arnold,
time 2:17.

Hoof Prints.
Tom Settle started the special pace race by agreement. It is said that several hundred dollars were bet by the sports on the result of this race, of course not on the grounds, betting
being prohibited.

Gus Thompson's driving was a feature of the races. By rare presence of mind and expert horsemanship he averted a smashup and yet won in one event when J. T. driven by Harris, shied at the crowded race course and edged in.

Crowds on the track prevented several scores from being starts, and the club will fence in the course in front of the grand stand to keep back crowds.

A running race, and probably another "auto" race will be a feature of the next meet.

PERILOUS RIDE IN OPEN BOAT.

Two Men Drift Helplessly for Two Days in Disabled Launch Laden
With Explosives.

San Francisco, Cal., June 8.—
Adrift for two days in an open launch, loaded with dynamite and gunpowder, without food, exposed to the elements and expecting, with each lurch of the craft, to be blown into eternity, was the experience of J. Kumphoff and Engineer L. Bechtel of the Crowley Launch company, who were rescued from their perilous situation and returned to the city.
The men were saved from a terrible fate by George L. Cross, manager of Cross Island, several miles north of Mare island navy yard.

In the launch Escort the two men left the powder works at Pinole for this city, with three tons of explosives aboard. As the craft was making headway upon the broad expanse of San Pablo bay her engine-broke down. With the incessant wash of the tide the little launch rocked and rolled dangerously, and none of the emergencies applied by the crew were of avail. As dawn was breaking the boat drifted upon the beach of San Pablo bay, where the waves washed over it.

Cross discovered the predicament
of the two men and rescued them,
taking them to a farmhouse.

Announcements.

Mrs. Hal S. Corbett is the hostess of the Five Hundred club on Wednesday morning at her home, 322 North Eighth street. Miss Laura January, of Columbia, Mo., is the guest of honor.

Mrs. William G. Whitefield, Miss Woolfolk and Miss Kathleen Whitefield, will receive on Wednesday afternoon from 5 until 6 o'clock at the Whitefield home, 725 Kentucky avenue, in honor of Miss Hemenway, of Illinois, and the Misses Carroll, of Tennessee the guests of Miss Whitefield.

The sixth annual ball of the New Century hotel, Dawson Springs, will be given on the evening of Wednesday, June 12. It will mark the opening of the popular hotel for the summer and it is possible that a number of Paducahans will attend.

June House Party and Bal Masque at Buckner Home.

Miss Garnette Buckner, of 809 Jefferson street, will issue invitations the first of the coming week for a masque fancy dress cotillion on the evening of June 27 in honor of a charming coterie of girls who will be her house guests the latter part of June. They are: The Misses Doughty, of Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Davis, of Louisville; Miss Conredde, of Williamstown, Ky.; Miss Church, of Columbus, O.; and Miss Sutton, of Zanesville, O. They and Miss Buckner were schoolmates at the Ursuline Academy at St. Martin, O., the past year. The cotillion will be a very smart affair to which several hundred invitations will be issued, limited to the young people and young married people.

To Compliment Popular Visitor.

Miss Laura January, of Columbia,

Mo., will arrive on Monday to visit her cousin, Mrs. Eli G. Boone, at 308 South Sixth street. Miss January visited in Paducah several years ago and made a delightful social impression. In her honor a number of informal affairs are already planned for coming week. Mrs. David Lindsay Van Cull will entertain at Five Hundred on Tuesday afternoon at her apartments in the Scott Flats. Mrs. Hal S. Corbett, of 322 North Eighth street, will have the Five Hundred club on Wednesday morning at her home in compliment to Miss January. On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells, of the Empire Apartments, will give an informal bridge party. Mrs. R. G. Terrell, of 516 Kentucky avenue, will entertain at cards informally on Friday afternoon.

Invitations to Louisville Wedding Recalled on Account of Illness.

On account of the serious illness of Mr. Robert Horner, of Louisville, the invitations to the wedding reception of Miss Elizabeth Burnett and Mr. Horner on Tuesday afternoon have been recalled. Mr. Horner has been moved to the Norton Infirmary and the wedding, if it takes place on the date, will be solemnized very quietly with only the parents of the bride and groom present. Mr. Horner's father and mother arrived in Louisville today from Philadelphia to attend the wedding, having come overland in a motor car. While considered very ill, Mr. Horner's physicians are hopeful of his ultimate recovery. The news here has occasioned great regret among the host of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burnett and Miss Burnett. The Paducahans who were to attend the wedding, will not go.

Pretty Party in Compliment to Mrs. Sykes.

Mrs. Charles E. Richardson, of 1643 Broadway, is entertaining this afternoon in compliment to Mrs. John W. Sykes, of Hope, Ark. It is an informal party with three tables at Bridge. The house is charmingly decorated throughout with sweet peas and a prettily-appointed luncheon will follow the game. The guests are: Mesdames John W. Sykes, of Hope, Ark.; Franklin Leavitt, Ferguson, Mo.; W. A. Gardner, W. B. McPherson, Luke Russell, Will Gilbert, W. J. Hills, Hal Corbett, Victor Davis, Milton Cope, Edson Hart, David Van Cull, Little Miss Elizabeth Tandy, of Frankfort, and Master Henry Rankin Dallam.

Hopkins-Coburn Wedding a Pretty Home Event.

The marriage of Miss Monima Hopkins to Mr. Craig Moffet Coburn, of Memphis, Tenn., will be solemnized this afternoon at five o'clock at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Fred Rudy, 215 Fountain avenue. It will be a pretty home ceremonial characterized by the charm of the utmost simplicity and will be witnessed only by a few of Miss Hopkins' most intimate girl friends and a limited number of the family friends of her grandmother, the late Mrs. W. S. McNary, one of Paducah's most popular women.

The ceremony will be said by the Rev. David Cady Wright rector of Grace Episcopal church, and there will be no attendants. The bride will wear a stylish traveling costume of brown voile, made with coat and a blouse of brown embroidered pongee. The hat, gloves and shoes will be harmonious shades of brown. She will carry a prayer-book in place of the bridal bouquet.

Light refreshments will be served after the ceremony and the couple will leave at 6:15 o'clock for Memphis, Tenn., to visit Mr. Coburn's father and mother on Belvedere avenue. Important business in connection with the Asphalt Paving company's work here will call Mr. Coburn back to Paducah next week and has caused a postponement of the planned bridal trip. Later they will go east and will be for the autumn and winter at Little Rock, Ark., where Mr. Coburn, who is assistant superintendent of the Memphis Asphalt Paving company, will have charge of some big work.

Details of the Sharp-McGlathery Wedding at Humboldt.

The marriage of Mr. James W. McGlathery, of this city, and Miss Ada Sharp, of Humboldt, Tenn., will take place on Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock at the First Methodist church of Humboldt. It will be a pink and white wedding and a very elaborate and beautiful ceremonial. The color-motif will be carried out in the decoration of the church and other details. The bridesmaids will wear white lingerie frocks with pink girdles. The bride party is a large one and will be a house party at the bride's home. Several Paducah people are among the attendants and others are well known here.

The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. E. S. Harris, of the First Methodist church at Humboldt. The wedding music will be an attractive feature and will be sung by: Mrs. Ernest Hamilton, of Humboldt; Mr. Bradley Roe, of Jackson; Mrs. Marvin McSwain, of Paris, and Miss Leverage Wright, of Humboldt. Miss Angeline Hays, of Jackson, Tenn., is the maid of honor and Mrs. R. N. Warmack, of Jackson, is the matron of honor. The bridesmaids are: Miss Foltz and Miss Chunn, of Humboldt; Miss Burrow, of Milan; Miss Mattie Lou McGlathery, of Paducah. The groomsmen will be: Messrs. Louis Cappel, of Memphis; Leon Williamson, of Jackson; Judge Thomas McCorry, of Jackson; Edward G. Scott, of Paducah. The ushers are: Messrs. J. W. Midgett and J. Q. Warnoth, of Humboldt; Sharp Caldwell, of Trenton, and J. Y. Williamson, of Milan. Mr. Walton Ketchum, of Memphis, is the best man. There will be two flower girls, Little Misses Louise Sharp and Carrie Belle Gillespie, of Humboldt.

The couple will make an extended bridal trip to New York, Niagara Falls, Washington and the Jamestown exposition. They will reside at Humboldt, where Mr. McGlathery will have his headquarters for the present. He is the vice-president and traveling representative for the Stutz Candy company of this city and a clever, popular and capable young man.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. McGlathery and Miss Grace McGlathery will leave on Wednesday to attend the wedding. Miss Mattie Lou McGlathery and Miss Lillie Mae McGlathery left this week and Mr. Edward Scott will go on Tuesday.

HAPPY RESULTS OBTAINED.

By the Use of the New Scalp Antiseptic.

It wouldn't take long to number the hairs in the heads of some people, the reason being they haven't many to number. In most instances, however, the fault is their own. A germ at the root soon plays havoc with the most luxuriant growth and causes it to fade and fall out. A remedy for this has recently been discovered, called Newbro's Herpicide, that acts by destroying the germ that does the damage, besides removing all impurities from the scalp. In addition it permits new life and vigor to enter the scalp, and happy results are sure to be obtained from its use. Try it. Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit Mich. W. B. McPherson, Special Agent.

Hank Dewey, Harry Splain, Grover Jackson, Monte Lack, Roscoe Reed, Roy Prayther, Milton Wallerstein, Leo Keller, Harry Singleton, Tom Coburn, Mr. Gaebel, Chas. Kopf, John Orme, Felix St. John, Guy Martin, Clay Kidd, Bennie Frank, Fred Wade, Frank Davis, Charles Cox, John Miller, James McGinnis.

Paducah at Shelbyville.

Paducah's delegation at the Kentucky Federation of Women's clubs, which convenes in Shelbyville on Wednesday, will be a most charmingly representative one and will be as an effectual "boost" for Paducah as anything the fertile brains of the Commercial club could devise in their many plans. While only a limited number of delegates could be elected from the three clubs, Woman's, Magazine and Delphic, which are members of the Federated clubs, any member can take advantage of the special rates to attend, and it is possible that a number may do so.

The Woman's club will be represented by: Mrs. James A. Rudy, Mrs. Muscoe Burnett, Mrs. Elbridge Palmer, Mrs. Edmund Post, Miss Adine Morton and Mrs. I. D. Wilcox. From the Magazine club are: Mrs. James Campbell Flournoy and Mrs. Edward Huling Bringham.

The Delphic club delegates are: Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips, Miss Helen Lowry and Mrs. Mildred Davis. The party will go from Louisville to Shelbyville by trolley, reaching there in time for the opening at 2:30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

Besides the regular order of business a number of social functions, both public and private, will be given during the days, as the president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. Sarah J. Decker, of Denver, Col., will be present and extensively feted. The Woman's club of Louisville will compliment Mrs. Decker with a swell entertainment at the Louisville club house after the Federation adjourns, which the Paducah women will attend, so the costumes for the Federation will have to be many and varied and some very charming ones are being planned to do honor to the occasion and Paducah. Every effort will be bent to secure the meeting for June, 1908, in Paducah and with so attractive a representation success is assured.

Series of Receptions.

The week has been a series of receptions in celebration of commencement week. All have been pretty and elaborate affairs and were a happy promise for the future of the young hosts and hostesses in the gracious art of entertaining. The High school auditorium was the scene of the entertainments and was elaborately decorated in the class colors, a different color scheme for each evening. The Freshman class received on Monday evening to honor the Seniors and presented an attractive musical program. On Tuesday evening the Juniors and Sophomores were the hosts. It was an informal reception with no program. An orchestra played during the evening and the olive and gold of the Juniors and blue and gold of the Sophomores were prettily interwoven with the class flowers—sweet peas—of the Seniors in evidence. Ices and cakes were served. Wednesday night was class night and the Seniors held sway. They presented an exceedingly clever program of the usual "class day" features in an unusual way. It was a "living magazine" and black and gold was the color-motif.

The annual reception for the class of 1907 on Friday evening was an appropriate finale to the week's round of pleasant affairs. It took place at the Eagles' building and the parlors were prettily decorated in the Alumni colors of red and white. The crimson rambler roses and white roses were used with pretty effect. The delightful ices and cakes carried out the red and white motif. The officers of the Alumni assisted by the High school faculty and the guests of honor, received in the front parlor. The dining room was presided over by: Misses Clara Thompson, Olga List, Maudie Gardner, Beulah Rogers, Elizabeth Sinton, Anna Larkin, Mary Brazleton. It was a most attractive occasion and a number of guests were present.

Five Hundred Club.

Mrs. Armour Gardner entertained the Five Hundred club on Wednesday morning at her home on Fountain avenue. It was a delightful club affair with a limited number of out-of-town guests. The house was charmingly decorated in Crimson Rambler roses and the red and white motif was carried out in the pretty course-luncheon. The club prize was taken by Mrs. Hal Corbett, Tenn., captured the visitors' prize. The guests were: Mesdames W. F. Bradshaw, L. A. Washington, Charles K. Wheeler, Henry Hughes, Ben Welle, Robert Reeves, Victor Voris, Harris Rankin, Hal Corbett, Hughes McKnight, Luke Russell, H. G. Reynolds, W. J. Hills; Misses Elizabeth Sinnott, Harriet Raines.

Sans Souci Club.

Mrs. David M. Flournoy entertained the Sans Souci club at cards very charmingly at her country place, "Homewood," on Friday afternoon. The tables were attractively arranged on the porch and a prettily appointed luncheon was served after the game. At each place was a souvenir bunch of sweet peas. The club prize, a dainty set of pearl beauty pins, was won by Mrs. John W. Scott. Miss Pauline Hinton captured the guest prize, a pair of silk hose. It was strictly a club affair with only Miss Hinton and two out-of-town guests:

Misses Harriet Raines, of Nashville, and Anna Bird Stewart, of Cincinnati present beside the club members.

Carpe Diem Club.

Miss Anna Harlan, of 818 South Fourth street, was hostess of the Carpe Diem club on Thursday evening at her home. It was a pleasant affair with only club members present.

The club will be entertained Thursday evening, June 20, by Miss Maggie Lydon, on South Tenth street.

Pretty Birthday Party.

Little Miss Selma Harris entertained with an attractive party on Thursday afternoon in celebration of her ninth birthday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harris, 1050 Madison street. The dining room was prettily decorated in a color-scheme of pink and white and the refreshments were in pink and white. Many pretty gifts were received by the young hostess. The guests were: Misses Lougenia Billings, Arnetta Billings, Frances May, Katherine Thomas, Estelle Grogan, Anna May McKinney, Etta McNeely, Zola Selgried, Ida West, Masters Maurice Callahan, Fulton, Floyd McKinney, Charles Farrington, Carter Farrington, Bobbie Green, James Bailey Beadles, Curtis Callahan, Edmund Story, Harold Farrington, J. Henry Harris and Altan Harris.

Kelley-Morgan Elopement.

Friday afternoon Miss Myrtle L. Morgan, daughter of Mr. J. E. Morgan, and Mr. Martin Kelley, a well known linotype machine operator, went to Metropolis and were married. They left on the morning boat and returned on the afternoon trip of the Cowling. Mr. Edward Wilson and Miss Edna Morgan, the latter a sister of the bride, accompanied them. Both are well known and popular young people. Justice Thomas Liggett performed the ceremony.

WEDDINGS.

The wedding of Miss Maybelle Beyer and Mr. Howard Edward Shelton took place on Tuesday evening at the German Evangelical church. The Rev. William E. Bourquin performed the ceremony. The church was effectively decorated with palms, ferns and magnolia blooms. The bride wore white embroidered net over white taffeta, with white hat and carried bride roses and sweet peas. The ushers were the only attendants: Messrs. Joseph Hairy, of Louisville, Clarence McCord, W. E. Kelly and Frank Rinkieff. Miss Rosa Kolb played the wedding march and Mrs. George Katterjohn sang. A pretty reception was given at the Beyer home after the ceremony. The house was decorated with the Ascension lilies and green plants. The refreshments carried out the white and green motif. The couple will spend their honeymoon at Washington, the Jamestown exposition and other points. They will keep house on South Third street.

Announcement was made this week of the engagement of Miss Laura Anderson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Anderson, of Arcadia, to Lieutenant B. L. Carroll, of the American constabulary, Philippine Islands. Miss Anderson is now visiting her sister, Mrs. Thomas E. Moss, at Tuguegarao, P. I., and the wedding will be solemnized there on June 20 at high noon. The bishop of Tagayan province will perform the ceremony and in the evening a banquet will be given at the club house by the American constabulary. They will go to housekeeping in Tuguegarao and will not return to the States until October, 1908, when Lieutenant Carroll's commission will expire. He is a native of New York City and Miss Anderson is a bright and agreeable girl.

Miss Ella Sanders, of this city, and Mr. Louis Haseman, of Clinton, Ill., formerly of Paducah, were married in St. Louis on Sunday night at the home of Mrs. M. Fahey, on Vernon avenue, where Miss Sanders was visiting. It was a pre-arranged affair, but only the relatives of the bride knew of it, so the news came as a surprise to the friends here. They had been sweethearts when Mr. Haseman lived in Paducah. They will reside at Clinton, Ill., where Mr. Haseman is master mechanic in the Illinois Central shops there.

Daily Thought.

"Our worries would be few if it were not for the things that never happen."

GROPING FOR AN ISSUE.

It's a pity that a man of Mr. Bryan's philosophical temperament and mentality, should so identify himself with partisanship, that he must always look upon public questions with an eye single to their utility as a campaign issue. An example of his attitude is afforded in a recent interview with the great commoner on the issues of 1908, in which he says:

"The financial issue is not the same now as it was in 1896. It is not due to the Republican party, however, but to natural causes, such as the world's increased gold supply, which has accomplished in a measure what I tried to accomplish in the campaign of 1896."

Mr. Bryan has talked about "flat money" and what he would do with his pet measures to establish monetary values, until the echo of his own voice has come back to him like the arguments of an adversary.

Why can not he content himself with the observation that "the financial issue is not the same now as it was in 1906?" Why must he needs add, "It is not due to the Republican party?"

The Republican party never pretended that anything but "natural causes" were needed in the case. The trouble with Mr. Bryan is he has been promulgating "flat issues" and bumping his head against "natural causes" so long that he has got into a chronic state of opposition to anything natural and real. "Natural causes" to be, sure, made a joke of Mr. Bryan's financial theory; but the Republican party in this instance got lined up on the side with "natural causes," and so must be accorded credit, at least, for being on the right side of the question.

The party press, on the other hand, has recognized in a measure the trouble, and is ignoring Bryan's later utterance. Any indication of a new issue sends the pack baying on the scent of a possibility, and just now the Courier-Journal is the lead hound on the trail. "Back to the constitution," is the cry.

Says the Courier-Journal: "Does the Courier-Journal then shoot wide of the mark when it says 'let us go back to first principles?' In a general, rather than an explicit way, that is its attitude to the debate. It says: 'Let us have done with sentimental rainbow-chasing among the clouds of Socialism. The constitution is a blanket broad enough to cover the whole country.'"

It is enough. All the others have caught the new note. There is just a suggestion of irony in the situation. Conservatism is the rallying bugle of the press, which followed Bryan for free silver, Parker for single gold standard and Edward Atkinson for Philippine independence, and they are as radically and unrestrainedly for conservatism as they were once opposed to it.

If they only knew it, the most popular thing just now for a presidential candidate to do, is to declare he will "continue the policies of the present administration."

It is said eastern Republicans have a gubernatorial "dark horse" by the name of "Hurt." We like not the sound of that name, though the spelling is reassuring.

Whether his story is true or not, Harry Orchard is a self-confessed rogue, and Moyer and Haywood were in mighty shady company when they associated with him.

It is odd that the head of the Standard brake concern should be killed in a runaway machine.

THEM'S OUR SENTIMENTS.

A communication in the Louisville Herald says:

"I have just finished reading your Wait-a-Minute column in today's Herald. It started out with Paducah and it ended with Paducah. I enjoyed every line of it. I visited Paducah a few years ago to attend the Kentucky State Medical society and I had a royal good time. I was delegate-at-large, chairman, secretary, etc., of the whole Tenth district. I was the only man there from the Tenth. One of the young M. D.'s from 'The Purchase' doubted my statement that I was from the Tenth but Dr. Steele Bailey vouched for me and my place of abode, and the chairman allowed me to place Dr. Martin F. Coomes' name before the delegates for president of the State Medical society."

I hope that Paducah will send a delegation to the coming Republican convention instructed for the Hon. Augustus E. Willson."

CASSIUS DUDLEY MANSFIELD,

M. D.

HANDS OFF M'CRACKEN.

Somebody outside of McCracken county has use for the McCracken county delegation to the Republican state convention. The outsider is opposed to the candidacy of Hon. Augustus E. Willson and to Capt. Ed Farley, McCracken county's candidate for state treasurer. The same rise will be attempted here and in every county in the First congressional district—to secure uninstructed delegations. The Republicans of this county do not have to endorse Mr. Willson for governor, but they ought to endorse somebody.

It is right that the majority of the Republicans who attend the county convention should prevail at the convention, and it is right that the expression of their opinion should be impressed on the state convention. The only way in which the will of the convention can be carried out in the state convention, is by sending instructed delegates. If the delegates go to Louisville without instructions, it will not be worth any man's while to attend the county convention, because the delegates can do as they please at Louisville, anyway.

If any man seeks the nomination for governor of Kentucky, let him announce it openly and then enter into a fair, square contest for delegates before the county convention. Hon. Augustus E. Willson has declared himself a candidate. He is the only man in the state, who has come out in such a public statement, but somebody desirous of accomplishing some purpose that does not yet appear, is making a play in the First district to control the delegations, so that he may use them for trading stock.

McCracken county is for Capt. Ed Farley. We believe, also, that it is for Hon. Augustus E. Willson, but that will appear later. The delegates should be instructed to vote for Capt. Farley for state treasurer and for whoever the Republicans favor for governor. Don't let's play into the hands of some self-seeking politician, who has not the manhood to come out and make an open fight, by sending an uninstructed delegation.

WILLSON SPEAKS

WILL BE WITHOUT SHACKLES IN EXECUTIVE CHAIR.

Louisville, June 8.—Splendid enthusiasm and absolute unanimity characterized the gathering of nearly 500 Republican stalwarts that filled Pfister's hall to the doors last night when Augustus E. Willson, in an address ringing with optimism and high resolve, made the formal announcement of his candidacy for the nomination as Republican standard bearer in the approaching gubernatorial race.

It will be found to be an admirable summary of the situation which confronts the Republicans of Kentucky at this juncture, and to ring true with the outspoken manliness that has always been characteristic of the man from whom it comes. Mr. Willson made it clear that if chosen as the nominee of the party for the office of governor he will be a man without shackles, free to follow his enlightened conscience in an earnest and aggressive effort to further the best interests of Kentucky politically, commercially and educationally.

He laid emphasis on the fact that his administration would seek to secure a square deal for all, whether Democrat or Republican, and frankly and fairly absolved any man who differed with him or thought he was not the best candidate that could be chosen from any obligation to support him, even as he himself held himself free from obligation to any lesser claim than duty.

Following Judge Willson's address a resolution was unanimously carried endorsing him for the gubernatorial candidacy, and tendering him the support of the meeting.

If you want a little better one, we have a beauty for $3.25. And for $4.25 we have a hammock which is the equal of any $8 hammock in Paducah. It's large and roomy, with a comfortable pillow. The fabric is heavy and closely woven and the colors are as near weather proof as it is possible to make them. Other good ones for 90c, $1.25, $2.25 and $2.50.

Most any time now a hammock is apt to prove the most comfortable place about the house. By all means come to Noah's Ark before you buy, for if you don't we both lose money.

The Alpha society of Mrs. John J. Doran's private school, at Fourth and Adams streets, gave an attractive entertainment on Friday afternoon at the school. An admirably planned musical and literary program with a debate. "Resolved That Printing is the Greatest Invention," was a special feature, was carried out. DUN'S REVIEW.

New York, June 8.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

Adverse weather has made the season another week late, both as to distribution of spring merchandise and progress of the crops. Transactions during the few days of seasonable weather thus far indicate that settled warm weather will bring out much business, but so much time has been lost that few merchants anticipate a normal volume, and large stocks will be carried over or sacrificed as bargains.

Wholesale trade in fall and winter goods is brisk, large duplicate purchases being made because of the cold spring having depleted retail stocks. Manufacturing plants operate full capacity in most industries, cotton mills making remarkably favorable returns, in view of the weather and cost of new material. Dispatches from leading cities indicate that the business situation is much more satisfactory at points in the west than in the east or south. Few serious labor struggles are in progress.

Buying of steel products has increased, and the forward business in all forms of iron and steel is so large that no material change in the condition of this industry can be expected this year. Urgency for prompt delivery still maintains premiums in spot business, the over-sold domestic furnaces making a ready market for foreign iron.

As in other branches of trade, the only drawback is the uncertainty supplied by the unfavorable weather, and thus far this fact has caused no calculations of consequence.

Miss Alice Compton will leave on Tuesday for Orange, N. J., where she will visit relatives for the summer.

DU QUOIN CYCLONE DOES MUCH DAMAGE

Thousands of Dollars Lost in Ruin of Crops

Illinois Central Passenger Train Runs
With Wind and Is Thus Saved.

VEGETATION IS BEATEN DOWN

Du Quoin, Ill., June 8.—A cyclone accompanied by a tremendous hail and rain storm, swept over Du Quoin and vicinity at 7:30 o'clock last evening doing damage to residence property and crops which will run far into the thousands. Many persons were injured although none are believed to be fatally hurt.

The violence of the storm, which was by far the worst that has ever swept this section of the state, is shown by the fact that four loaded box cars were blown from a moving Illinois Central freight train and piled up in a nasty wreck in the main yards while one of the cars was blown across the yards to a point 75 feet away from the main track.

Trees were uprooted, dozens of houses were lifted from their foundations while many were unroofed. Scores of sheds, signs and small buildings were blown away and a shaft of a mine near Du Quoin was demolished, a short while after a large number of miners had quit work.

Hail Beats Down Crops.
Immense damage was done to all crops in the vicinity of Du Quoin by the heavy wind and hail. Hail stones varying in size from a pea to ones as large as base balls fell in great numbers for a period of 20 minutes. Windows were broken and growing crops beaten down by the heavy fall of the stones.

Had not Illinois Central train No. 23 been running with the storm it would doubtless have been damaged by the hail. Passengers on the train say that the roar of the storm and the train was completely drowned out by the heavy beating of the hail on the roof. One man opened a window and a hail stone as large as his fist fell into the car.

Had the tornado occurred an hour or so later the passenger train would have probably been wrecked instead of the freight train. Conductor McKee was notified of the Du Quoin wreck at Tamaroa and held his train there for 20 minutes until it was found that it could enter Du Quoin by the way of the Eldorado west track.

Passengers and crew on train No. 23 say that when the train left Centralia at 5 o'clock a heavy rain was falling and that between Irvington and Richview the heaviest of the hail fell. At Elkhart, seven miles south of Du Quoin there was no rain and only a slight breeze.

It is reported tonight from Marshall, Ill., that the storm also struck that town doing much damage and killing Henry Rook and Mrs. Pinkston.

Almost a Cloudburst.
The rainfall amounted practically to a cloudburst and accompanied by the hail, almost paralyzed railroad traffic and made the work of clearing the wreck especially difficult. Water is standing in the streets and railroad tracks almost ankle deep and in some places even deeper.

The train from which the cars were blown was an extra north bound freight in charge of Conductor F. E. Moss of Centralia. Three of the cars were completely wrecked and tumbled up in hopeless confusion across the two main tracks. The car that was blown across the yards was an empty and was also smashed almost to splinters.

No Damage at Cairo.
Cairo, Ill., June 8.—The storm yesterday did no damage here but other communities were not so fortunate. At Mound City the residence of Dr. Mathes was struck by lightning and the roof badly torn, damage being done also to the interior.

Beginning on the west side of Sixth street, in the city of Paducah, McCracken county, Ky., 450 feet south from the intersection of Sixth and Husbands streets; thence south with Sixth street 50 feet; thence at right angles and towards Seventh street 165 feet to a 14 foot alley; thence at right angles towards Husbands street 50 feet; thence at right angles towards Sixth street 165 feet to the beginning, to satisfy judgment, interest and cost.

The purchaser will be required to give bond with approved security, bearing interest at 6 per cent from day of sale, having force of replevin bond, on which execution may issue when due.

This 6th day of June, 1907.

Attorney.
OECIL REED,
Master Commissioner.

DISCREDIT TALE OF HARRY ORCHARD

Attempt of Counsel of Defense
in Haywood Trial

Show That Witness Was in Employ
Both of Miners' Union and Operators' Detectives.

DAY OF CROSS-EXAMINATION.

Boise, Idaho, June 8.—Counsel for Haywood continued to attack Harry Orchard's testimony and centered their strongest assault on the events beginning with the explosion at the Vindicator mine and ending with the earlier meetings between the witness and the leaders of the Federation of Miners in Denver. To the extent that traffic with the other side of the war of labor and capital in Colorado was discreditable, they succeeded in discrediting the witness.

Taking up the admission that Orchard made in direct examination that he had been treacherous to his companions in Cripple Creek by tipping off the trainwrecking plot, they developed the fact that Orchard entered the employ of D. C. Scott, who had charge of railway detectives. Orchard said that with Scott he had met K. C. Sterling, a detective in the employ of the Mine Owners' association, and that Scott had paid his expenses and accompanied him to Denver on a trip when he first met Moyer and Haywood.

Connected With Both Sides.
Orchard said he had agreed to report to Scott but that he was lying to him; that he never intended to make reports to him and never did make reports. The defense also tried to show that because he stood in with the other side Orchard was never molested by the militia in Cripple Creek during the strike. Orchard admitted that Scott had told him that if the militia interfered with him he was to send for him, and that the militia never did interfere with him or search his house.

Orchard said he went to Scott first he had not been paid for his work at the Vindicator mine and he bolted because he was given hard work like the Vindicator job while other men got the simple task of train wrecking by displacing a rail.

Weave Web of Doubt on Story.
Defense endeavored to throw a shadow of doubt and improbability around the whole Vindicator story and the alleged connection of W. F. Davis and William Easterly with the affair and circumstances under which Orchard testified he met Moyer and Haywood and was paid for commission of the crime, and to discredit Orchard's story that he was sent back to Cripple Creek with unlimited credit and orders to commit any act of violence he cared to.

They confronted Orchard with Easterly and O'wney Barnes and paved the way for contradiction by them of the story told by Orchard, and several times paved the way for controversion of his testimony in material points.

Orchard stood the strain very well and held tenaciously to the story. Suddenly the defense took up the trip Orchard made to southern Colorado with Moyer in the early part of 1904 and showed that Moyer feared to go south unguarded because the mine owners' official thugs had beaten up innocent union men and had sent for Orchard to aid in protecting him.

It was agreed that they should carry out offshoots and sit in the center of the railway car so that if they were attacked they could defend themselves. Attorney Richardson in questioning the witness made it clear that this had been a perfectly straight proposition, free from any fake.

Keep Your Bowels Open

It is a noticeable fact, and one which any doctor will verify that people who suffer most often from disease are the ones who have the most difficulty in keeping their bowels open.

People who have a tendency to constipation must of necessity use something to help nature along. This should not be a violent aid like salts or purgative waters, cathartic pills or powders, but a syrup liquid that will oil the intestines and membranes that it comes in contact with. Children, women and weak people generally should never be given a strong physic, as it weakens the system. And it is futile for the strongest person because the relief is simply for that day, and then the reaction sets in and you are worse off than before.

What is needed is a prompt but gentle laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. People have been taking it for sixteen years and it is being better liked by more people every year. The reason is that it fills a want. It is unlike anything else. Results are so sure in constipation, dyspepsia, indigestion, liver trouble, biliousness, flatulency, sour stomach, acid stomach, bloated, nervous and such like that a cure of any of these ailments is absolutely guaranteed. A bottle costs but 50 cents or $1 and a worth a hundred times that to any sufferer.

Wise mothers keep it constantly in the house for emergencies, because it is needed at some time or other by every member of the family. Dr. Lucella Underhill, the medical superintendent of the Working Women's Home of Chicago has kept her charges in perfect health by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin whenever a stomach complaint was brought to her attention. No other laxative is used in the Home. Buy a bottle yourself today and watch the prompt and permanent results.

FREE TEST Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying can have a free sample bottle sent to their homes by mail. This offer is in proof that the remedy will do as we claim, and is only open to those who have never taken it. Send for it now. THE PUBLIC VERDICT: "No Laxative So Good and Sure as DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPsin." This product bears every guarantee No. 17, Washington, D. C.

HARRIMAN

MUCH DAMAGING EVIDENCE BUT NOTHING INCRIMINATING.

White House Conference Regarding Probable Prosecution of E. H.
Harriman.

Washington, June 8.—A notable conference on the subject of trust prosecution was held at the white house. Those who participated were President Roosevelt, Secretary Root, Secretaries Taft, Cortelyou and Garfield, and Attorney General Bonaparte and Interstate Commerce Commissioner Knapp, special counsel for the government. Secretary Loeb at midnight issued this statement: "The conference was held for the purpose of affording ample discussion concerning matters which have been under investigation by the interstate commerce commission. The commission has not yet formulated its report and the discussion was of a purely preliminary kind. After the report has been made the attorney general will of course carefully consider it."

The discussion took wide range. Much time was given to the Harriman-Alton deal. Every phase of that transaction was gone over and the conclusion was reached that however damaging the evidence might be against Harriman the testimony he had given in the interstate commerce investigation had given him complete immunity from criminal prosecution.

Mad Dog Victims.
Chicago, June 8.—Allen Lynch, aged two years, and James Harbage, five years old, victims of a rabid dog at Columbus, Ohio, were brought to the Pasteur institute here for treatment. Seven other children were bitten by the same dog and are expected today. The dog was killed and a postmortem examination reveals that it was suffering from rabies.

It seems to be mighty hard for the average mortal to act sensible when out in a crowd.

The KING of DIAMONDS.

By Louis Tracy,

Author of "Wings of the Morning," "The Pillar of Light," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1904, BY EDWARD J. CLODE.

At last he reached the comparative seclusion of the Embankment and stood for a moment to gaze fixedly at the swirling, gliding river.

"Not here," he muttered aloud. "I must be nearer to mother—dear old mother! She is there waiting for me."

He trudged steadily away through Queen Victoria street, Cornhill, Leadenhall street, and so on to Johnson's Mews, in the Mile End road. Pausing at a marine store dealer's shop kept by an army pensioner, an Irishman, with whom he had a slight acquaintance, he entered. An elderly man was laboriously reading a paper of the preceding day's date.

"Good evening, Mr. O'Brien," he said. "Can you oblige me with a piece of rope? I want a strong piece about three or four yards in length. I can only spare three halfpence."

"Talk, I dunno. They use nails on the crates mostly nowadays. If I have a bit it's at yer service. I wouldn't be after chargin' the likes of you."

Philip's story was known in that humble locality, and the old soldier sympathized with the boy. "He has a right spunk an' no mistake," was his verdict when others said Philip was proud and overbearing. O'Brien moved rheumatically about the squalid shop. At last he found some portion of a clothesline.

"Will that do?" he inquired.

Philip tested it with vigorous pulling against his knee.

"Excellently," he said. "Let me pay you for it."

"Arrah, go away wid ye! And, be the powers, isn't the poor lad coddlin' famished? Luke here, now. In five minutes I'm goin' to have a cup o' tea."

"I am awfully obliged to you, but I could not touch a morsel. I am in a hurry."

"Are ye goin' a journey? Have ye got a job?"

"I think so. It looks like a permanency. Goodbye."

"Goodbye, an' good luck to ye. Sure the boy looks mighty queer. 'Tis grief for his mother has turned his head entirely."

No words could more clearly express Philip's condition than this friendly summing up. Since his mother's burial he had been half demented. His curt, disconnected answers had lost him two places as an errand boy, which he could easily have secured. His small stock of money, ridiculously depleted by the generosity with which he met the open lips of the undertakers' assistants, barely sufficed to keep him in food for a week. Then he sought employment, but with such stiff upper lip and haughty indifference to success that he unknowingly turned those against him who would have assisted him.

For two days he was chosen to act as van boy for a parcel delivery firm. He earned a few pence, but in a fit of aberration induced by the sight of a lady who was dressed in a costume similar to one he remembered his mother wearing at Dieppe, he allowed a ham to be stolen from the rear of the van. This procured his instant dismissal, with threats. Then he sold newspapers, only to find that every good site was jealously guarded by a gang of roughs who mercilessly bullied any newcomer. Personal strength and courage were unavailing against sheer numbers. His face was still swollen and his ribs sore as the result of being knocked down and kicked at Ludgate Circus. At Charing Cross next day he was hustled under the wheels of an omnibus and narrowly escaped death. So he was driven into the side streets and the quiet squares, in which, during three or four days, he managed to earn an average of eightpence daily, which he spent on food.

Each night he crept back to the poor tenement in Johnson's Mews, his bleak "home" amid the solitude of empty stables and warehouses. The keeper of a coffee stall, touched one night by his rosy cheeked appearance, gave him some half dried coffee grounds in a paper, together with a handful of crusts. "Put 'arf that in a pint o' water," he said, looking critically at the sodden mass of coffee, "an' when it comes to a bile let it settle. It'll surprise you to find 'ow grateful an' comfortin' it tastes on a cold night. As for the crusts, if you bake 'em over the fire, they're just as good as the rusks you buy in tins."

This good Samaritan had repeated his gift on two occasions, and Philip had a fairly large supply of small coal, sent to his mother by the colliery company, so his position, desperate enough, was yet bearable had he but sought to accustom himself to the new conditions of life. There was a chance that his wild broodings would have yielded to the necessity to earn a living, and that when next a situation was offered to him he would keep it, but the occurrences of this stormy night had utterly shaken him for the hour. He was on the verge of lunacy.

As he passed through the dark archway leading to his abode, the desolate stable yard was fitfully lit by lightning and in the distance he heard the faint rumble of thunder. The elemental strife was beginning again. This was the second and more disastrous outbreak of the evening of March 19.

Although wet to the skin, he was warm now on account of his long and rapid walk. When he unlocked the door another flash of lightning revealed the dismal interior. He closed and locked the door behind him. On the mantelpiece were a farthing candle and some matches. He groped for them and soon had a light. On other occasions his next task was to light a fire. By sheer force of habit he gathered together some sticks and bits of paper and arranged them in the grate. But the task was like some to him. It was absurd to seek any degree of comfort for the few minutes he had to live. Better end it at once. Moreover, the storm was sweeping up over the East End with such marvelous speed that the lightning now played through the tiny room with dazzling brilliancy, and the wretched candle burned with blue and ghostlike feebleness. The cold of the house, too, began to strike chill. He was so exhausted from hunger that if he did not eat soon he would not have the strength left to carry out his dread purpose.

He sprang erect with a mocking little laugh, picked up the candle and the piece of rope and climbed the stairs. He paused irresolutely at the top, but, yielding to overwhelming desire, went on and stood at the side of the bed on which his mother had died. He fancied he could see her lying there still, with a smile on her wane face and unspoken words of welcome on her lips.

A flood of tears came and he trembled violently.

"I am coming to you, mother," he murmured. "You told me to trust in God, but I think God has forgotten me. I don't want to live. I want to join you, and then perhaps God will remember me."

He stooped and kissed the pillow, nestling his face against it, as he was wont to fondle the dear face that rested there so many weary days. Then he resolutely turned away, descended four steps of the ladder-like stairs and tied the clothesline firmly to a hook which had been driven into the ceiling during the harness room period of the room beneath. With equal deliberation he knotted the other end of the cord round his neck, and he calculated that by springing from the stairs he would receive sufficient shock to become insensible very quickly, while his feet would dangle several inches above the floor.

There was a terrible coolness, a settled fixity of purpose far beyond his years, in the manner of these final preparations. At last they were completed. He blew out the candle and stood erect.

At that instant the room became absolutely flooded with lightning, not in a single vivid flash, but in a gleaming, continuous glare that suggested the effect of some luminous constellation fierce with electric energy. Before his eyes was exhibited a startling panorama of the familiar objects of his lonely abode. The brightness, so sustained and tremulous, startled him back from the very brink of death.

"I will wait," he said. "When the thunder comes, then I will jump." Even as the thought formed in his mind a ball of fire so glowing, so brilliant, in its flaming heat that it dominated the electric waves fluttering in the overburdened air darted past the little window that looked out over the tiny yard in the rear of the house and crashed through the flagstones with the din of a ten inch shell.

Philip, elevated on the stairway, dislodged the mottled splash which accompanied its impact. He saw the heavy stones given asunder as if they were tissue paper, and from the hole caused by the thunderbolt or meteor came a radiance that sent a spreading shaft of light upward like the beam of a searchlight. The warmth, too, of the object was almost overpowering. Were not the surrounding walls constructed of stone and brick there must have been an immediate outbreak of fire. As it was, the glass in the windows cracked and the woodwork began to scorch. In the same instant a dreadful roll of thunder swept over the locality, and a deluge of rain, without any further warning, descended.

All this seemed to the wondering boy to be a very long time in passing. In reality it occupied but a very few seconds. People in the distant street could not distinguish the crash of the fabled meteor from the accompanying thunder, and the downpour of rain came in the very nick of time to prevent the wood in the house and the neighboring factories from blazing forth into a disastrous fire.

The torrent of water caused a dense volume of steam to generate in the back yard, and this helped to minimize the strange light shooting up from the cavity. There was a mad hissing and crackling as the rain poured over the meteor and gradually dulled its brightness. Pandemonium reigned in that curiously secluded nook.

Amazed and cowed, not by the natural phenomenon he had witnessed, but by the interpretation he placed on it, the boy unfastened the rope from his neck.

"Very well, mother," he whispered aloud. "If it is your wish, I will live. I suppose that God speaks in this way."

Our Expensive Palates.

Physiological chemists occasionally delight to tell us that we are the dupes of aesthetic senses and pleasing flavors. Men will pay, they say, half a guinea for a pint of turtle soup which, from a nutritive point of view, is not worth a twentieth part of that sum. Oysters, we are told, are an extravagant form of food, since fourteen of them do not contain as much nourishment as a single egg, while it would require the ingestion of no less than 200 good oysters before the protein equivalent of a pound of beef was reached. Caviare, again, is not to be compared with the blotto as regards its nutritive value; indeed, the latter "offers the largest amount of nutriment for a given sum of any animal food."

It is evident if we regard these conclusions seriously that a large section of the human race is wickedly indulgent, caring more for the palatable than the nutritious quality of food. The same appears to be true in regard to beverages, and even in the case of cigars there is no difference, chemically speaking, between the penny Pickwick and the shilling Havana. The difference of eleven pence is paid for flavor, and flavor alone. Physiologically, it is possible that a "brandy and soda" costing say one shilling is just as satisfactory as a "pint" of champagne at five shillings. Similarly it may be said that a pint of beer at sixpence is quite as good, dietetically speaking, as a small bottle of Chateau Margeaux at three shillings and sixpence.

There are, however, clearly instances in which in no sense can the nutritive equivalent of food and beverages be summed up in so many pounds, shillings and pence. How often is it found, for example, that the invalid may be tempted to take a few oysters in preference to a small beef fillet, or some turtle soup when calves' head, the basis of mock turtle, would scarcely appeal to him, even although it may be more than equal in nutritive value to the only reptile used to any extent as food in this country. When a person refuses to take a given food, however nutritive and wholesome it may be, because it is not tempting to the sight or the palate it is in many instances probable that if he struggles to overcome his fastidiousness such food may prove to tax his digestive functions and may even cause gastric trouble.

The chemical analysis of food and physiological experiments in the test tube do not take into account this psychological factor of digestion, for the digestive process is well begun when the sight of food is pleasing. On the contrary, when food does not appeal to the eye it is likely not reasonable to conclude, therefore, that the price of flavor is always the price of luxury.—London Lancet.

Bad Acting.

At a dinner of the Beach club at Palm Beach, Oakleigh, Thorne New York's noted raconteur, told a story about a theatrical manager.

"The day after the production of a new melodrama," said Mr. Thorne, "this manager wrote to his leading man as follows:

"Dear Sir: Your performance last night was so bad that I had decided to have written to me demanding that their names be stricken from the free list."—Exchange.

BOSS CANVASMAN OF THIRTY YEARS

'Matt' Barber Is at Last Object of Charity

Has Walked Back and Forth Across Mason and Dixon's Line Annually For Years.

BUT NOW MUST TAKE TO CARS

Martin Barber, known more familiarly as "Matt" Barber, one of the oldest "boss canvasmen" in the country, is an inmate of the county sanitarium, but does not desire to be a burden on the county, and visited the police station yesterday afternoon to arrange for getting away.

"I am disabled by lumbago and kidney trouble, and have been in the Home four months," he explained as he painfully sat down in a chair. "I want to get home, to Wilkesbarre, Pa., and want permission to sell corn salve on the streets, a salve of my own manufacture."

Police Captain Frank Harlan became interested. He came from Mount Holly, N. J., "just across the river," and interrogated the old fellow. Barber "wintered" with his ciphers there for years and knew almost as much about Mount Holly as did Captain Harlan.

"I was boss canvasman 'carried the tape,' as they put it, with Sells Bros.' show for 16 years, and acted in the same capacity for the Four-paugh shows for an equal number of years. I have travelled all over the United States and have been to Australia, but never braved the Atlantic to the Old Country. I am now 70 years old, and since leave circus usefulness with the shows, have been spending my summers in the north about my home, and the winters in the south. I walk the entire distance selling my corn salve to farmers. When I strike a town I stay for a few days selling my wares, and in this way have made expenses for 12 years until attacked by lumbago and kidney trouble, which caused me to go to the poor farm."

Barber does not show his age except by his stooped position, and feeble walk. He hopes to pick up a few dimes to get to Louisville, where he has friends, who will assist him home. He can not walk more than a square at the time, and will have to finally "take to the cars," as he puts it.

Barber complimented the county sanitarium, saying it was an excellent institution with everything possible for the comfort of the inmates.
